World Geography - GE101

Section: GE101 816193S Online
Section Type: Lecture
Credit Hours: 3.00
Course Description: World Geography takes students on a tour of the world. Learn the main concepts geographers use to understand physical and human geography, such as maps, population growth, migration, climate, culture, geopolitics, and economic development. Those concepts are then applied to each region of the world in turn. Gain an understanding of how regions are different from each other, as well as how globalization is drawing people closer together.
WHEN Days: Arranged
Times: Arranged
Start Date: 06/01/2020
End Date: 07/23/2020
WHERE Online
INSTRUCTOR
JASON KNAPP
BOOKS
No textbooks for this course.