Become a Fire Officer

HutchCC Fire Science is offering on-line education for current and future fire officers. Fire Officer I and Fire Officer II are now available as on-line courses, with more to follow. They follow the curriculum for NFPA 1021 Standard for Fire Officer Professional Qualifications.

Courses are Online

The Fire Officer courses are taught entirely on line and can be easily completed while the student is at the station; all that is needed is a computer with internet access. These courses were specifically designed to help educate the line firefighter/officer with minimum impact on their days off.

"The path to our future is paved by educating our officers."
