

World Geography - GE101

Section: GE101 866231S Online

Section Type: Lecture

Credit Hours: 3.00

Course Description: World Geography takes students on a tour of the world. Learn the main concepts geographers use to understand physical and human geography, such as maps, population growth, migration, climate, culture, geopolitics, and economic development. Those concepts are then applied to each region of the world in turn. Gain an understanding of how regions are different from each other, as well as how globalization is drawing people closer together.

WHEN

Days: Arranged

Times: Arranged

Start Date: 12/04/2023

End Date: 12/29/2023

WHERE

Online

INSTRUCTOR

SHARI ELRHOUAOUI

BOOKS

No textbooks for this course.