Honors World Geography - GE101H

Section: GE101H001261S Main Campus
Credit Hours: 3.00
Course Description: World Geography takes students on a tour of the world. Learn the main concepts geographers use to understand physical and human geography, such as maps, population growth, migration, climate, culture, geopolitics, and economic development. Those concepts are then applied to each region of the world in turn. Gain an understanding of how regions are different from each other, as well as how globalization is drawing people closer together.
WHEN Start Date: 08/19/2026 End Date: 12/09/2026
Days:
MWF
11:30 AM - 12:30 PM
Campus: Main Campus
Building: Lockman Hall
Room: LH007

INSTRUCTOR
RYAN DIEHL
BOOKS
No textbooks for this course.