Website Coding - IS225

Section: IS225 001192S Main Campus
Section Type: Lecture
Credit Hours: 2.00
Course Description: Explore the use of HTML and CSS in basic website design and development, according to best practices, by way of coding with a text-based editor without the assistance of graphical user interfaces. This includes developing skills for troubleshooting.
Course Notes: Course assumes familiarity with computer-based operating system such as Windows & how to use web browser. Students expected to have some exposure & comfort working via text-based(non-graphical)editor.
Section Notes: Course assumes familiarity with computer-based operating system such as Windows & how to use web browser. Students expected to have some exposure & comfort working via text-based(non-graphical)editor.

WHEN Days: M W
Times: 09:10 AM - 10:10 AM
Start Date: 01/13/2020
End Date: 05/06/2020

WHERE
Campus: Main Campus
Building: Shears Technology Center
Room: STC130

INSTRUCTOR
MATT MAGEE

BOOKS
Title: NEW PERSPECTIVES ON BLENDED HTML AND CSS 3RD Edition
Author: BOJACK & SCOLLARD
Required: Yes
Title: INTRODUCTION TO WEB DEVELOPMENT USING HT
Author: JAMSA
Required: Yes