

Website Coding - IS225

Section: IS225 826192S Online

Section Type: Lecture

Credit Hours: 2.00

Course Description: Explore the use of HTML and CSS in basic website design and development, according to best practices, by way of coding with a text-based editor without the assistance of graphical user interfaces. This includes developing skills for troubleshooting.

Course Notes: Course assumes familiarity with computer-based operating system such as Windows & how to use web browser. Students expected to have some exposure & comfort working via text-based(non-graphical)editor.

Section Notes: Course assumes familiarity with computer-based operating system such as Windows & how to use web browser. Students expected to have some exposure & comfort working via text-based(non-graphical)editor.

WHEN

Days: Arranged

Times: Arranged

Start Date: 02/03/2020

End Date: 05/07/2020

WHERE

Online

INSTRUCTOR

MATT MAGEE

BOOKS

Title: NEW PERSPECTIVES ON BLENDED HTML AND CSS 3RD Edition

Author: BOJACK & SCOLLARD

Required: Yes

Title: INTRODUCTION TO WEB DEVELOPMENT USING HT

Author: JAMSA

Required: Yes