

Bench Work - MC110

Section: MC110 001251S Newton

Credit Hours: 1.00

Course Description: Students will be provided the opportunity to learn and practice bench work skills such as filing, drilling, tapping, deburring and layout for projects. They will gain valuable practical experience in the use of various hand tools by producing basic bench work projects. Topics will include safety, print reading, job planning, and quality control.

Course Notes: Simultaneous enrollment in MC115 Machining I is encouraged.

Section Notes: Simultaneous enrollment in MC115 Machining I is encouraged.

WHEN Start Date: 09/03/2025 End Date: 10/08/2025

Days:

MWF

8:00 AM - 10:55 AM

Campus: Newton

Building: Newton Brooks Trade Center

Room: NWB105

INSTRUCTOR

CLAYTON BAUGHMAN

BOOKS

No textbooks for this course.